

SEPTEMBER 2026

The Scoop!

A collection of notable articles from across the industry.

Healthcare Liability

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Healthcare liability market conditions remain mixed, with several segments facing continued challenges. Explore the trends affecting human services, senior care and medical spas.

Learn more

Employment Practices Liability

Travelers claim data shows that 60% of employment practices liability claims are brought by fired or laid-off employees, and claims have become more frequent and more costly.

Learn more

Cyber Insurance

Should cyber insurance cover alleged privacy violations? As wrongful data collection claims become more common, some cyber insurers are introducing new exclusions to their policies.

Learn more

Many small and medium-sized businesses have adopted payment portals and other digital applications, but they often lack robust cyber security, and that's made them a target for cyber criminals.

Learn more

Directors and Officers Insurance

Business dispute and antitrust claims are occurring more frequently, especially with private, service-based companies. Marissa Streckfus joins the D&O Diary Podcast to discuss claims trends and D&O claims scenarios.

Learn more

Artificial Intelligence

AI can trigger patent infringement allegations in several distinct ways, and the sheer number of AI-related patents is increasing claims frequency. This is a good time to reassess risk management.

Learn more

What do insurance professionals think of AI and related risks? This episode of the D&O Diary Podcast looks at the governance risks behind AI, with insights from a recent survey.

Learn more

Financial Institutions

For private capital firms, cybersecurity is becoming an essential part of transaction due diligence. Here's how M&A insurance can help manage cyber and technology risks.

Learn more

Non Profits

How is mission creep shaping nonprofit risk? When organizations offer more services, they also take on more liability exposures, adding to the increasingly complex risk environment.

Learn more

E&O

Where does D&O coverage end and E&O coverage begin? It's not always clear. When D&O and E&O exposures overlap, the coverage structure is crucial for handling claims.

Learn more

Contact your local RT ProExec broker at rtspecialty.com